Rosemary Sassoon

A designer for many years mainly concerned with letterforms. Additionally she specialised in the educational and medical aspects of handwriting. After discovering that no one had found out what kind of letterforms children found easiest to read, she spent two years of research on the subject before designing the original Sassoon Primary typeface. Since 1987, in partnership with Adrian Williams a whole range of font products for reading and handwriting education in schools has been developed, suitable for representing hand written letterforms. Now they are used worldwide for both the teaching of reading, handwriting and phonics.

S180: Sassoon® Infant Basic pack (4 fonts)

These fonts are the basic requirements for teaching both reading and handwriting;

Sassoon Infant Dotted B for handwriting beginners to 'track' over letters.

Sassoon Infant Line for handwriters to 'copy' what they see on the line.

Sassoon Infant Regular for short passages of text/large displays to aid handwriting.

Sassoon Primary Regular for large passages or whole books of typeset reading material.

For a complete pre-cursive handwriting solution with heavier weights, outlined (tracker) and dotted variations (for handwriting practice) see the 'Starter' pack, item S002...
